My dear Mother,

I have just received your letter of the 28th inst. and am glad to hear from you. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in the hospital, but am getting on better. I have been out for a short time, but must return soon. I have been thinking of you very much and hope you are all well. I have not much news

Engraving.

Engraving is a method of producing a copy of a drawing or photograph by means of a steel plate. The original drawing is etched into the plate, and the ink is then transferred to the paper by means of a roller. This process is repeated until the desired number of copies have been made.

"One hundred copies printed."

"The term 'German' will be found somewhat comprehensive, including many of the productions of the presses of Holland, Belgium and Switzerland, and a few of Austria-Hungary ... The period in which these books fall is c. 1455 to 1680 ... The majority of the books are of the 15th and 16th centuries ... In assembling this (German) portion of the library more attention has been given to the decorative part of the book than to merely the typographical side. A representative collection therefore has been made of many of the principal books with woodcuts, commencing with the earliest xylographs."—Pref.
